

Dear Friends:

Please join us for the 24th Annual Breast Cancer Update, held virtually on Wednesday, February 23, 2022.

Unique among medical conferences in Delaware, the Annual Breast Cancer Update of the Delaware Breast Cancer Coalition (DBCC) provides a 360-degree view of breast cancer research, treatment, and patient experiences. It is one of the few conferences attended by medical professionals, social workers, breast cancer survivors, medical students, and community members.

The 2022 Breast Cancer Update Program will focus on the recent advancements in the breast cancer realm, as well as identifying advancements in vaccines and treatments for breast cancer. The Breast Cancer Update will provide information on current trends and advances in breast cancer treatment, diagnosis, and clinical trials as well as summarize the “Artemis Project” an ongoing vaccine clinical trial for the prevention of metastasis utilizing mRNA technology. Furthermore, the update will compare current surgical options for de-escalation of breast surgery and in the axilla, list current approaches and advances in chemotherapeutic treatment options and outline current research initiatives on blood diagnostics.

For more than 23 years, with your support, we have been able to offer this important event to the community free of charge. We anticipate several hundred registrants, including a variety of attendees comprised of survivors, caregivers, medical care providers, students, and members of the general public. Please review the enclosed options for sponsoring below. Your generous commitment to the fight against breast cancer will be acknowledged prominently during the event and online as a supporter of the Update.

We hope you will consider taking part this year as a sponsor. Your generous commitment to the fight against breast cancer will be acknowledged prominently during the event and online as a supporter of the Update.
